

ARRESTS BOYS; REBUKED

Magistrate Says Lads Have a Right to Carry Satchels for Pay.

Four bright faced boys, ranging in age from eight to fourteen years, were arraigned before Magistrate Butts, sitting in the men's night court, early yesterday morning.

"These boys," explained the policeman, "are guilty of asking passengers in the Grand Central Station to let them carry their grips and hand baggage."

Magistrate Butts gasped in astonishment as he said:

"Do you mean to say that you have brought these children here—brought them before a criminal court—merely because they tried to make a few honest pennies by carrying suitcases? I believe the arrests were made because those in the business of carrying hand baggage protested—because they wanted a monopoly."

"I will entertain no such charge. These boys have a perfect right to earn money by carrying baggage. If they annoy private persons by insistence in offering to carry their luggage let those persons wear out a complaint against them, and then I will hear the case. The prisoners are discharged."

The magistrate said that such arrests were little short of an outrage.

"I know of no more courteous class of little rascals than newboys and such lads as these," he continued. "Why, if you go to a boy to buy a penny paper and he hasn't the one you want he will willingly run a block to find another boy who has the paper and bring it to you. If this thing keeps up it will soon be necessary to get a license to breathe in New York."

BLACK FOX FARMING PAYS.

The business of domesticating and breeding the black fox in Prince Edward Island has developed so rapidly and the profits derived from it are so considerable that the Provincial Parliament has passed an amendment to the income tax law whereby the profits arising from breeding foxes in confinement are made subject to an income tax of 1 1/2 per cent. It is claimed that some of the black fox farms on this island yield annual profits exceeding $20,000.—Consular Report.
